by the Legislature. And the case and point is, where. And there are places where it ought to be limited. And one of the safest places is to drink I suspect is at home, rather in a car or somewhere else. We have made arrangements for liquor to be consumed in the residence of other people who have..or happen to live in state houses. One's not too far from here. Within a stone's throw. And this is what the bill asks for, is a person be allowed to consume liquor if he chooses. And the Board of Regents could set up some guidelines under the circumstances as to how. Now, really if we're really adamant about this issue, liquor and it's detrimental effects, I'd ask you not to kill this bill and maybe we can gather and put in a constitutional amendment on the ballot, either in this spring or this fall for prohibition. True, that would be a great idea. Then you can really put it on the line. Also, if you want to talk about some rich politicians, if that passes, the first thing all of you ought is resign from the Legislature and run for County Sheriff. That's where the money is.

PRESIDENT: Next to speak is Nore, then Carpenter, Rasmussen

SENATOR NORE: Mr. President and fellow members. I can't imagine this bill getting out of committee. I don't know how it got out of committee. It...we know that alcohol is the worst drug that we have in the world, because of it's wide use. And I'm not a teetotaler. I speak from experience. And I would like to warn you ahead of time that anyone that is running for office. This is not a threat, this is a fact, that I intend to get out a few letters like I have on the racing issue, which I will do on that too. How you voted. Because I want your people to know how you voted. Because I know how they feel about it. So I would move, I would certainly support Senator Chambers.

PRESIDENT: Next to speak is Senator Carpenter, Rasmussen, Syas Clark.

SENATOR CARPENTER: Well, for Senator Nore's information. Having been a member of the committee. We reported out to share our responsibility with people like you. No, but we wanted to share our responsibility with you. We didn't think that we had the judgement to supercede the judgement of 49 other people. Now we're talking about...I want to read you what the law is now. 53186. This is the present law. Not involved in the bill to be amended at all. It shall be unlawful for any person to consume alcoholic liquors in the public streets, the alleys, the parking areas, the roads or highways, or inside vehicles while upon the public streets. Alley, parking areas, roads or highways, or upon property owned by the state. Now let me call your attention to the mention is that which is owned by the state. And nobody has the right to drink on the mansion or in the mansion of this state. And I presume the Governor has just as much respect for this law as he has the one he vetoed the other day, or didn't sign.

PRESIDENT: Senator Rasmussen.

SENATOR RASMUSSEN: Mr. Chairman and members of the body. I think Senator Chambers summed it up when he offered the kill motion. Our consciences are going to be our guide. And I think we've got our minds made up, and I'd ask for the question.
